Honourable Francis (Buck) Watts
Speaker of the Legislative Assembly
197 Richmond Street, Charlottetown

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I have the pleasure of presenting the 2015 Annual Report of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island. This report highlights Assembly achievements, challenges and changes for the period of January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015.

Throughout 2015, considerable effort was made to facilitate and enhance access to parliamentary information, both for Members and for Islanders, through enhancements to the Assembly website. The staff of the Legislative Assembly also seamlessly managed the transition from our past home, Province House, to the new interim facility located in the Honourable George Coles Building, all following the general election in the spring of 2015.

In addition to organizing the move in less than 3 months, our office conducted a swearing-in ceremony for all Members, and ensured that all Members were ready to assume their role in public life through administrative and procedural orientation sessions. Support and assistance was also provided by Assembly staff to Members of the Special Committee on Democratic Renewal during the conduct of Island wide public consultations.

As you review this Annual Report, I think you will agree that it demonstrates our commitment to provide Members of the Legislative Assembly with the professional services, infrastructure and advice needed to carry out their work as legislators and representatives in the Chamber, in committees, in caucus, and in their offices.

Respectfully yours,

Charles H. MacKay
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly and Secretary, PEI Branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association

Our History

How It All Started

Prince Edward Island's government was not always led by one House of elected representatives; for roughly the first 120 years of Island governance, there were two legislative bodies, the Legislative Council and the House of Assembly. A two-body Legislature is known as a bicameral Legislature. PEI's first Governor, Walter Patterson, was instructed to establish a House of Assembly in which representatives were popularly elected (unlike Council members, who were appointed). The combination of a Council and House was a requirement for the enactment of legislation under British law. Though Patterson became Governor in 1769, the first House of Assembly was not elected until 1773. Early sessions of the Assembly met in private homes and taverns. A Sergeant-at-Arms of the time commented that this made for a "damn queer parliament".

By 1825, the House of Assembly was working on establishing its rights and privileges, particularly in terms of self-regulation and authority. It followed the example of the British Parliament in seeking to secure ...freedom from arrest (save in indictable offences) during the session and for periods of forty days before and after the session, freedom of speech during debate, power to discipline members and non-members who gave insult or injury to the House or its members, the right to determine disputed elections, [and] the right to receive petitions .

The House also established committees charged with the discussion and analysis of particular matters, which took some of the workload off the main body of the House. Committees remain an important part of today's Legislative Assembly.

PEI's early Legislature often remained in office for an indefinite time, until the Lieutenant Governor saw fit to dissolve it. In 1833, the term was set to four years, with exceptions for dissolution by the Lieutenant Governor or upon the death of the King or Queen. Today, the term of the Legislative Assembly may last for up to five years from the day of the return of the writs for a general election. Otherwise, it may be dissolved earlier by the Lieutenant Governor with the advice of Executive Council. It is no longer automatically dissolved upon the death of a sovereign.

Responsible Government

The existence of an elected House of Assembly was key to PEI's attainment of responsible government (self-government) in 1851. The Members of the House of Assembly were largely in favour of responsible government, while the Members of the Legislative Council largely were not. The Council Members' resistance was likely because they were appointed, opposed to reform and enjoyed freedom from responsibility to the House of Assembly. In fact, the Council was often an obstacle to the House in terms of membership and policy. But in 1839, the Legislative Council was separated into a Legislative Council and an Executive Council, and some Members of the House of Assembly were placed on Executive Council; this had the effect of reducing the Legislative Council's power. In 1840, the House of Assembly requested that the Queen grant responsible government to PEI. It was granted in 1851, and was augmented with an 1862 Act that required the Legislative Council to be elected rather than appointed. From this point onward, the Council's influence gradually diminished compared to that of the House.

Creating the Legislative Assembly

In 1893, the House of Assembly and the Legislative Council were combined to form the Legislative Assembly. From 1893 to 1966, PEI's Legislative Assembly was made up of 30 Members, half of which were elected as Assemblymen, half as Councillors. There were five electoral districts in each of the three counties, and each district elected an Assemblyman and a Councillor. This double-representative system was unique in Canadian politics, as all other provinces had abolished their second chambers. In 1966 the riding of 6th Queens was created, which brought the total membership in the Assembly to 32. In 1994 the Election Act and Electoral Boundaries Commission recommended a shift to single member representation for all 30 districts. MLA Ross Young later introduced a Private Member's Bill which redrew electoral boundaries according to a 27 riding system. The bill received Royal Assent on May 19, 1994, and survived provincial and federal Supreme Court challenges by the City of Charlottetown and other urban centres. The 1996 election was the first time the Legislative Assembly was elected based on one Member for each of 27 ridings, a system it continues to follow today.

Our Services

The Office of the Legislative Assembly provides nonpartisan procedural, administrative, communications, educational and outreach services to the Members of the Legislative Assembly (MLAs) and the public.

Office of the Speaker

The Speaker is the presiding officer of the Legislative Assembly, and is responsible for:

- presiding over the proceedings of the Assembly, maintaining order, and regulating debate in accordance with the rules and practices of the House;
- ensuring all viewpoints have the opportunity of a hearing in debate;
- casting the deciding vote in the event of a tie;
- guarding the privileges of the Assembly and protecting the rights of its Members;
- representing the Legislative Assembly outside of the Chamber and embodying the authority and prestige of the House; and
- chairing the Standing Committee on Legislative Management.

Office of the Clerk

Members are supported in their parliamentary functions by services administered by the Clerk, the chief executive officer of the Legislative Assembly. The Clerk has both procedural and managerial responsibilities, and oversees the delivery of nonpartisan services to the Members of the Legislative Assembly. The Clerk's responsibilities include:

- safekeeping of the records and documents of the House;
- maintaining the official record of the House and publishing the Journal of the Legislative Assembly;

- serving as secretary to the Standing Committee on Legislative Management;
- advising the Speaker and Members on parliamentary procedure, traditions and precedents;
- administering the Oath of Allegiance to all duly elected Members at the beginning of a parliament; and
- presiding over the election of a Speaker.

Standing Committee on Legislative Management

The Standing Committee on Legislative Management deals with the administration of the House and the provision of all services and facilities to Members. Chaired by the Speaker, its mandate and membership are specified in the Rules of the Legislative Assembly.

Independent Offices of the Legislative Assembly

- The Conflict of Interest Commissioner assists Members and Ministers in reconciling their private and public interests to enhance public confidence in the Legislative Assembly.
- Elections PEI administers all elections in Prince Edward Island.
- The Information and Privacy Commissioner accepts appeals from applicants, or third parties, who are not satisfied with the response they receive from public bodies as a result of an access to information request. The Commissioner also investigates privacy complaints.
- The Indemnities and Allowances Commission reviews and determines salaries and benefits to be provided to the Members of the Legislative Assembly.

Sessional Administration

During the sittings of the Legislative Assembly, additional administrative support is required. The Sessional Administration Office supports the Clerk with regards to the production, dissemination and safekeeping of documents. Its responsibilities include:

- archiving a copy of everything tabled in the House;
- producing and distributing physical copies of House proceedings and debates to Clerks, Members, and the media, as well as posting digital copies to the Legislative Assembly website;
- undertaking daily mailings to various provincial and federal libraries and government offices; and
- providing training, support and scheduling for Legislative Pages.

Committees

The Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island enjoys the flexibility available through its standing committees to carry out detailed consideration of the annual reports of the Auditor General to the Legislative Assembly, examination of the public accounts of the province, recruiting for positions on the Prince Edward Island Human Rights Commission, and matters of interest to the people of the province.

Committee work provides topical information to Members of the Legislative Assembly on issues of concern and often provokes important public debate. In addition, because committees interact directly with the public, they provide an immediate channel between elected representatives and Islanders.

In 2015, the standing and special committees completed a busy and productive schedule of 55 meetings, submitting a total of 12 reports to the Legislative Assembly.

Hansard

Hansard first started transcribing the daily debates of the Legislative Assembly in February, 1996. As of December 2, 2015, 842 issues of the daily debates have been published.

In 2006, Hansard took over the responsibility for transcribing committee proceedings.

Since 2007, Hansard has produced detailed indexes to both the daily debates and committee meetings.

In 2015, Hansard resumed cataloguing various papers connected to the Legislative Assembly, including typescripts of portions of House and committee debates, as well as reports, speeches and other items. The time period covered is from 1961 to 1995. Once the catalogue is developed, the Legislative Assembly, working with other partners, can decide what should be scanned and added to the Legislative Documents Online website.

Security

The Sergeant-At-Arms is part of the Office of the Legislative Assembly as defined in the Legislative Assembly Act. The position is steeped in parliamentary tradition; with the Sergeant-At-Arms and the mace, the House may exercise its considerable rights and privileges, and carry out various functions assigned to it.

Today, the Sergeant-At-Arms/Director of Security is responsible for the operational security of the Legislative Assembly. This is achieved by providing a safe and secure environment for MLAs, staff of the Assembly, and the visiting public.

The objective is to provide a safe and secure environment for MLAs and Assembly staff to conduct their parliamentary responsibilities in the Hon. George Coles Building, Saint Paul's Rectory, and the J. Angus MacLean Building. As of 2010, security services for the Legislative Assembly have been supplied by the Legislative Assembly Security Force, which consists of three full-time and seven part-time members, under the direction of the Sergeant-At-Arms. Additional responsibilities include:

- monitoring and maintenance of electronic surveillance equipment;

- issuing and controlling the card access system;
- training of security personnel;
- liaising with the Charlottetown Police as required;
- creating contingency plans for bomb threats and fire evacuations; and
- serving as contact for assistance with public demonstrations and conducting threat and risk assessments.

Human Resources, Finance and Administration

This office supports the work of the Speaker, Members and Office of the Clerk by assisting with financial, administrative and human resource management services. Responsibilities include:

- administering payroll and benefits for staff and Members;
- advising employees with regard to benefits;
- providing information to both the Government and Opposition House Leaders on staffing budgets;
- preparing the budget and quarterly forecasts to ensure operations stay within the approved budget;
- administering the day-to-day finances of Legislative Services, the Office of the Conflict of Interest Commissioner, and the Information and Privacy Commissioner;
- responding to information technology, telecommunications, and general maintenance requests;
- participating in the planning and attending of special events;
- conducting the recruitment and orientation process for Legislative Pages; and
- participating in the orientation of Members.

Library and Research

The Legislative Library and Research Service is a nonpartisan and confidential source of information, news, and reference services to Members of the Legislative Assembly, their caucus staff, standing committees, and staff of the Legislature. The Legislative Library and Research Service is also responsible for:

- completing research briefs;
- responding to information requests from other Canadian jurisdictions;
- obtaining information on legislation, regulations, and policies of other jurisdictions for comparison to Prince Edward Island;
- developing interpretive and informational content for distribution to visitors to Province House; and
- updating and maintaining the website for the Legislative Assembly.

Multimedia Services

Multimedia Services is responsible for producing the television broadcast and webcast of the spring and fall sittings of the Legislature. Additional responsibilities of Multimedia Services include:

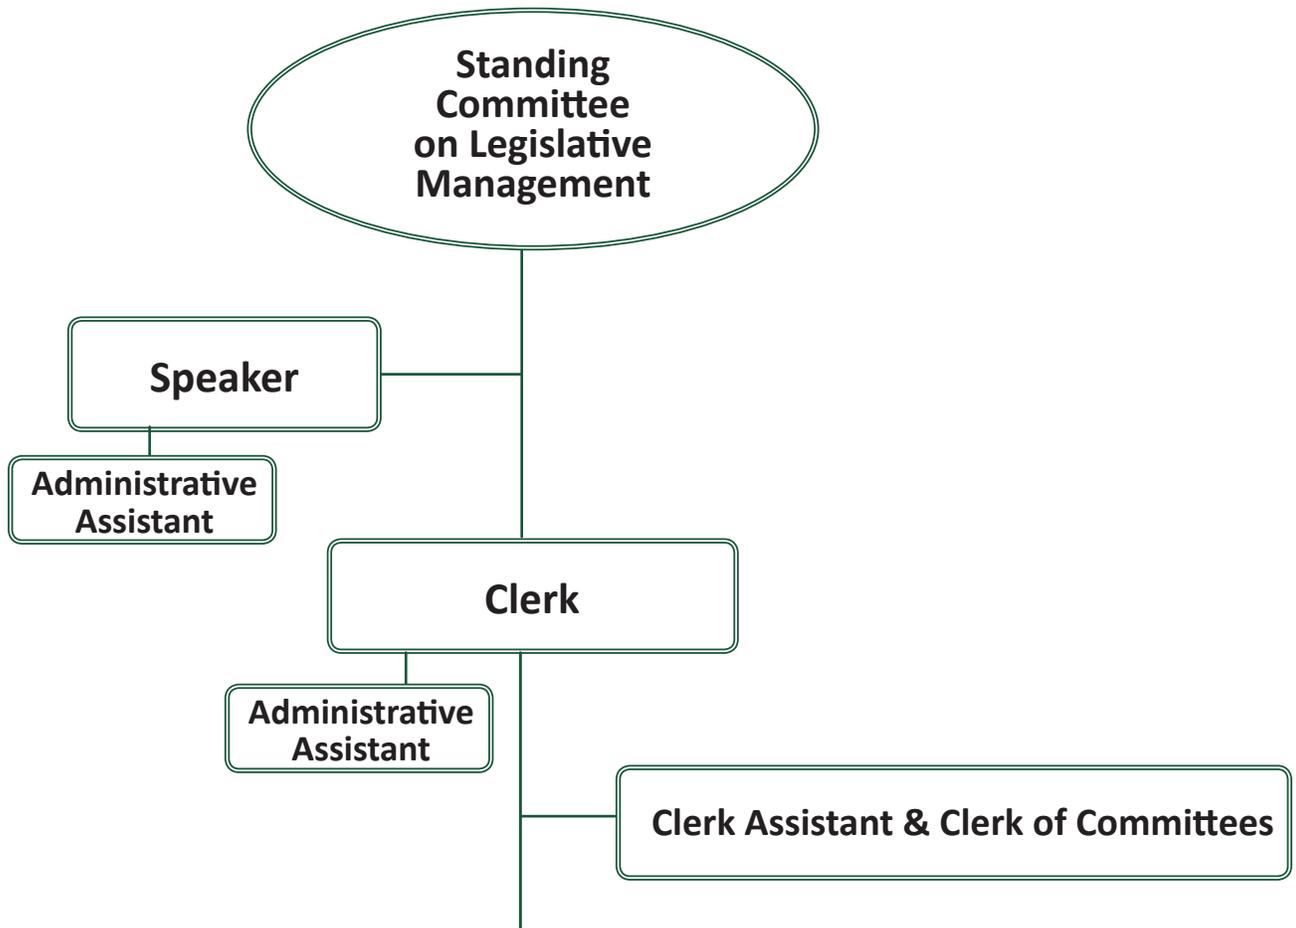

- archiving all streaming sessions of the Legislature on the Legislative Assembly website;
- providing audio and video support to Information Technology Support Services;
- providing technical support for Members of the Legislative Assembly, the media and presenters to the standing committees;
- producing audio recordings of the standing committee and Legislative Assembly proceedings; and
- repairing and maintaining all audio and visual equipment at Province House and the Coles Building.

External Relations and Special Projects

In order to ensure a smooth transition for the Legislative Assembly Offices, the Assembly undertook an interchange for an External Relations and Special Projects Manager. The primary responsibilities of this position included:

- coordinating the Legislative Assembly's move from Province House to nearby buildings, including the Legislative Chamber, administrative, security, and press offices to the Honourable George Coles Building; the offices of the Speaker and Clerk to 197 Richmond Street; and the committee room and library to the J. Angus MacLean Building. All three buildings are within a city block of one another, in the heart of historic Charlottetown;
- acting in the communications and external relations position for the Office of the Legislative Assembly;
- representing the Office of the Legislative Assembly's interests in the relocation (including inventory control) of the Legislature;
- liaising with Parks Canada and the Department of Transportation and Infrastructure Renewal on logistical requirements associated with the relocation;
- ensuring internal readiness for the move, including the preparation of a preliminary needs analysis on the continued operation at Province House post-renovation; and
- analyzing the website and identifying and developing outreach opportunities/partnerships (external and internal) for both the relocation and other key Assembly messages.

Spotlight: A Move in the Making...

Being knee-deep in packing tape and bubble wrap, surrounded by towers of boxes, is a scenario to which most people can relate. But not all moves are alike. Involving the coordination of hundreds of thousands of documents, numerous pieces of office furniture and historic artifacts, many feet of shelving, and Members and staff, the Legislative Assembly move was on a completely different scale.

Province House closed in January 2015 due to major repairs to fix serious structural issues. Parks Canada commissioned a report on the condition of the building from Toronto architecture firm Taylor Hazell. Even before submitting its final report, the firm warned Parks Canada of several urgent structural issues, one of which was the possibility of an external wall collapse. In response to this, some repairs were made and an exterior wall was secured, but the underlying causes of the problem still plagued the building. As a result, a move was in the making.

Due to the closure of Province House several offices in other buildings had to be relocated.

Elections PEI was the first to move from their location in the J. Angus MacLean Building at 94 Great George Street to the Atlantic Technology Centre at 176 Great George Street. The Legislative Library and the offices of the Research Librarian and Research Officer moved from their office space on the first floor of the Coles Building to the first floor of the J. Angus MacLean Building in the beginning of December, 2014. Before the move, committees met in the Pope Room on the first floor of the Coles Building, but this was to function as the Legislative Assembly Chamber. Their meeting space was moved to the first floor of the J. Angus MacLean Building where adaptation of the committee table began on January 22, 2015. The Crown Attorney's Office moved from 197 Richmond Street to 50 Water Street. The Offices of Speaker and Clerk of the Legislative Assembly moved into 197 Richmond Street the week of January 21, 2015.

The Legislative Chamber was relocated to the Honourable George Coles Building, adjacent to Province House. The administrative, security and press offices were also relocated in the Coles Building.

Renovations started on February 9, 2015, for the first floor of the Coles building to re-create it as the new space for the Legislative Assembly. The former library offices were transformed into space for security, press room, administrative office and the Speaker of the House. The Pope Room was renovated to become the temporary Chamber of the Legislative Assembly. Furniture from the Chamber in Province House was brought to the Coles Building (after being safely secured and stored for two months in Summerside), including the Speaker's Chair and the desks and chairs used by Members of the Legislative Assembly. The new Chamber is a similar size to the original one, however it has fewer seats for the public gallery. To ensure adequate space for the public to view the proceedings, the new committee room located in the J. Angus MacLean Building is now being used as an overflow room. The majority of renovations in the Honourable George Coles Building finished in early April and the first session in the new Chamber began on June 3, 2015. The Members were sworn in at a replica of the original Province House Legislative Council Chamber in the Confederation Centre of the Arts.

Together with Parks Canada, the staff of the Legislative Assembly and the Province worked with experts and curators to ensure that all of the artifacts in Province House were secured safely, recorded, and moved to a humidity-controlled environment in Dartmouth, NS.

Robert Harris Portraits Restored

The new Legislative Assembly Chamber located in the Honourable George Coles Building is home to ten Robert Harris oil portraits. In an effort to preserve them for the future, the portraits were restored in the spring of 2015. The paintings were delivered to Elizabeth Jablonski, a freelance art conservator and owner of Fine Art Paintings Conservation and Collections Management, in Halifax, to be restored.

The portraits that hang in the Chamber include nine speakers as well as one Premier and Father of Confederation, Edward Palmer. These portraits marked an important turning point in Harris' career. He was working as a clerk and dreaming of life as a professional painter when he received his first official commission in September of 1871. He was asked by the Executive Council of PEI to paint the province's speakers and was only paid five pounds per painting, approximately thirty dollars by today's exchange rate. At this point, Harris had still not received any formal training in art but was able to secure the commission through contacts of his mother's. This job did not make him a rich man, but it was his first opportunity to prove his worth as a professional painter.

The Robert Harris portraits hung in the Legislative Assembly Chamber in Province House until the Chamber was moved next door to the Coles Building. In restoring the portraits, Ms. Jablonski's goal was two-fold: to maintain the visual emphasis on the sitters in the portraits and the creative work of the artist, and to preserve the paintings for the future.

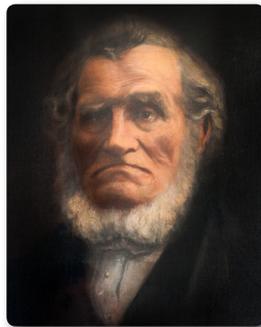

The portraits now hang in the temporary Chamber of the Legislative Assembly in the Coles Building, where they will remain until the conservation project of Province House is complete and the Assembly returns to its regular home. Thanks to the conservation and restoration of these portraits, they will be a part of the Chamber for a very long time to come.

Orientation and Swearing-In of New Members of the Legislative Assembly

An orientation session was held for new Members and their families for the First Session of the 65th General Assembly on May 6 - 8, 2015. Some of the topics included financial matters, introduction of independent officers, and preparation for opening day and parliamentary procedure.

On June 3, 2015, the new replica Confederation Chamber in the upper foyer of the Confederation Centre of the Arts made a very special and appropriate venue for the swearing-in of incoming Members of the Legislative Assembly. Elected representatives swear the Oath of Allegiance as Members of the Legislative Assembly and are not permitted to take a seat on the floor of the House until duly sworn (or solemnly affirmed).

First Session of the 65th General Assembly - Wednesday, June 3, 2015

The First Session of the 65th General Assembly officially opened on Wednesday, June 3, 2015, at 2:00 pm, in the new Legislative Chamber, located on the first floor of the Honourable George Coles Building.

The first Order of Business for the day was the election of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly. Following the election of the Speaker, His Honour the Lieutenant Governor delivered the Speech from the Throne. The regular sitting day schedule, including oral question period, began on Thursday, June 4, 2015, at 2:00 p.m.

New Speaker of the Legislative Assembly Elected

The first business day of the new General Assembly included the secret ballot election of Speaker and confirmation of the House's selection of Speaker by the Honourable H. Frank Lewis, Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island. This marked the first time in 18 years that a secret ballot election for the role of Speaker was necessary and the Honourable Francis (Buck) Watts, Liberal MLA for Tracadie-Hillsborough Park, was duly elected. As Speaker, he serves as President of the Prince Edward Island Branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association. Mr. Watts is Chair of the Legislative Management Committee and the Legislative Audit Committee. Sonny Gallant, the MLA for Evangeline-Miscouche, was appointed Deputy Speaker on June 3, 2015.

Opening of the Fall Sitting - Thursday, November 12, 2015

The following students were appointed as Pages:

Janette Kerry, Kensington Intermediate Senior High School; John Ployer, Montague Regional High School; Annie Compton, Bluefield High School; and Rachel Hamilton, Grace Christian School. Brian D. Weldon of Charlottetown was appointed Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island effective November 12, 2015.

A special welcome was mentioned to the new interim Leader of the Opposition, Honourable Jamie Fox.

A First in Our History: Two Women as Clerks-at-the-Table

November 19, 2015, was the first time in the history of the Prince Edward Island Legislative Assembly that two female clerks sat at the Table during a sessional sitting day. The clerks are nonpartisan parliamentary officials responsible for providing advice to the Speaker and Members on parliamentary procedure and practice, ensuring the supports and services for the operation of the Legislature are available and maintaining the official records of the House.

Web Advisory Committee and Social Media

A new Web Advisory Committee (WAC) was formed to examine the Legislative Assembly's website on a regular basis and develop strategies for making the most effective use of the web, focusing on innovation and user satisfaction. The committee was established to guide the development of the Legislative Assembly's website and to advise and support the webmaster to ensure that the site contains the highest quality and most up-to-date content. During this past year, the web committee has redesigned the look and feel of the website to make it more user friendly while establishing improved standards for content.

The following Legislative Assembly employees are members of this committee:

JoAnne Holden, Chair

Laura Morrell

Ryan Reddin

Joey Jeffrey

Emily Doiron

The committee has also initiated an increased presence in social media for the Legislative Assembly, namely on Twitter and Facebook. Social media provides an exciting, powerful and interactive addition to our online activities which allows the Legislative Assembly to engage with the public on common platforms; increase participation in Assembly business; improve targeted communications; improve the long-term cost-effectiveness of communication; and promote the work of the Assembly itself.

Wintertide

The Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island once again partnered with the City of Charlottetown to host the Wintertide Holiday Festival Opening on November 20, 2015.

Father Christmas and a selected Children's Wish Foundation child led the parade of approximately 1,500 people in Christmas carols as they walked along Grafton Street to the Confederation Centre of the Arts Upper Plaza. There they met a large gathering crowd with the voices of the Confederation Centre Children's Youth Chorus singing Christmas carols in the background.

Following the tree illumination, hot chocolate and cookies were served and all enjoyed the tree and lights in the surrounding area. Christmas carols were played in the background to maintain the festive atmosphere.

The event had approximately 1,500 persons in attendance, with Charlottetown City Police assisting in controlling traffic flow on Grafton Street prior to and during the event. The event was presented by the City of Charlottetown in partnership with the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island, Confederation Centre of the Arts, Children's Wish Foundation, and media partners The Guardian and NewCap Radio.

The evening was once again a great success and served as the official launch of the Holiday Season in the capital city.

Order of Prince Edward Island

First conferred in 1996, the Order of Prince Edward Island is the highest honour that can be accorded to a citizen of the province. It is awarded annually following a public nomination process with not more than three recipients being selected by the independent Advisory Council.

The Order of Prince Edward Island has been established as a way of encouraging and acknowledging the outstanding achievements of individual citizens of the province. It is a special act of appreciation to nominate someone believed to be deserving of such an honour. The Order of PEI Advisory Council reviews nominations and recommends the names of honour recipients.

2015 Recipients of the Order of Prince Edward Island

Bill Campbell

In 2007, J.W. (Bill) Campbell was honoured by the Halifax Regional Municipality with the prestigious Paragon Award. In his acceptance speech, Campbell said he would like his grandchildren to know that their granddad was part of the team that cut extreme poverty in half by 2015. Since that time and, indeed, long before, Mr. Campbell has been steadfast in his commitment to that goal. His efforts to improve people's lives in the areas of non-profit housing projects and shelters for the vulnerable and homeless are well known throughout the province. Mr. Campbell is the president and founder of Bills Lane Housing Development in Charlottetown, a not-for-profit housing project containing twelve geothermally-heated town houses, plus one apartment building.

Perhaps not as widely recognized is Mr. Campbell's dedication to combating poverty through microloans to those with business ideas they wish to develop on Prince Edward Island, and to internationally trained workers living in the province who need financial assistance to upgrade their credentials to Canadian standards. He is the president and founder of Canada Microcredit Educators Group. Mr. Campbell's dedication to making a difference in our community has not gone unnoticed. In addition to the Paragon Award, he has received the Canada Volunteer Award and Medal of Honour, and the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal, among others. The Order of Prince Edward Island is a fitting addition to acknowledge his contributions to Prince Edward Island.

Honourable H. Wade MacLauchlan, Premier of Prince Edward Island; recipient Bill Campbell; Honourable H. Frank Lewis, Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island

Gerald Sheldon Dixon

Gerald Dixon is recognized for his inspirational leadership and foresight in the classroom, on the basketball court, throughout the equestrian community, and in his home and neighbouring communities. Mr. Dixon was born in Summerside. He was a busy and active youngster with a love of animals, and most especially horses, which became a lifelong interest. Educated in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, Mr. Dixon began a full-time teaching career at Kensington Regional High School in 1970, retiring in 2001. His interest in teaching extended beyond the classroom, and school sports, with a focus on coaching basketball, became a major part of his life. In 1994, he was recognized by the Island Basketball Association for his contributions to the sport, and in 2010, he was awarded the Three Oaks Christmas Classic Honorary Chair Recognition Award for thirty years of coaching basketball.

Gerald Dixon's interest in horses kept pace with his efforts for his students and their success.

From 1957, when he bought his first western saddle, to racing his exceptional horses, Ak-bar and Flying MacKay Leo, in the following decades, to organizing the first meetings of the Abegweit Horse Association and much more, Mr. Dixon has been a dedicated and enthusiastic contributor to equine activities in the province. More broadly, his tireless efforts on behalf of the Crapaud Agriplex, starting in 2002, have resulted today in a popular, multi-use facility which is an integral part of the district. "The best asset any organization or community can have" has been used to describe Mr. Dixon and his capacity for vision, leadership, and love of sports and community. He is a worthy recipient of the Order of Prince Edward Island.

Honourable H. Wade MacLauchlan, Premier of Prince Edward Island; recipient Gerald Sheldon Dixon; Honourable H. Frank Lewis, Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island

Dr. Charles St. Clair Trainor

Dr. Charles Trainor has set the standard for kind, conscientious and competent patient care. Following his graduation in 1964 from St. Dunstan's University, magna cum laude, he pursued his medical studies at Dalhousie University in Halifax. Upon completion of his studies and internship, he returned to Prince Edward Island and opened a family practice in 1970. Just six years later, Dr. Trainor became one of the first Island physicians to be awarded certification by examination by the College of Family Physicians in Canada. He maintained an extremely busy family practice until his retirement in 2007. By that time, Dr. Trainor was caring for his third generation of patients, having looked after their parents and grandparents, a continuity of care that is extraordinary. A testimonial to the quality of his relationships with his patients was evident at his retirement party where many of them attempted to persuade him to postpone his well-deserved retirement. After leaving his office practice, Dr. Trainor continued to serve the needs of his fellow Islanders by working as a surgical assistant in the operating room at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, as well as serving as the province's Chief Coroner, a post he held from 1994 to 2015. His work in that regard began in 1983 when he was appointed as a provincial coroner, and continued through the decades, as he trained and mentored the coroners under his supervision. Dr. Trainor invariably exhibited tremendous empathy and compassion for grieving families, assisting them in any way he was able, and was always willing to share his knowledge and expertise with police, ambulance, funeral home and firefighting personnel. An active member of his community, he continues to contribute to the health and well-being of Prince Edward Island. Dr. Charles Trainor truly deserves this award for his lifetime of dedication to the people of the province.

Community Engagement

Legislative Internship

The Legislative Internship Program is run in partnership with the Department of Political Studies at the University of Prince Edward Island. Each year, a third- or fourth-year student majoring in history and/or political science is selected by faculty for a paid internship at the Legislative Assembly in each of the fall and winter semesters. The internship promotes a deeper understanding of the functions and processes of the Legislative Assembly within the university faculties and provides students with an opportunity to work in their field of study while gaining real-world, practical knowledge of the provincial parliament. Students are also encouraged to pursue projects within their areas of academic interest while they put their research skills and political studies knowledge to use.

Since its inception in 2008, the program has been well received by both partner institutions, and has provided work placement for 15 students. In 2015, Alix Barry and Christopher Sallie worked at the Legislature, and both students proved to be valuable additions to the staff during their work terms.

Visitor Services

In previous summers, the Legislative Assembly hired postsecondary students to work as Visitor Guides to provide tours of Province House and interpret its historical and modern significance as a provincial legislature. With the Legislative Assembly temporarily relocating its Chamber to the Honourable George Coles Building, the summer of 2015 presented an opportunity to adapt the Visitor Guide program to a new interpretive space. Guide duties expanded to include research and other tasks similar to those performed by Legislative Interns. In 2015, Visitor Guide Emily Jensen greeted and interacted with several hundred visitors over the July-August period.

Legislatures across Canada offer various forms of visitor services and public education, and the professionals involved participate in the Parliamentary Visitor Services Association. The Association holds an annual general meeting and conference, which was hosted in September, 2015, by the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan. The conference provides an opportunity for Association members to share creative ideas and best practices on visitor services as well as take in the educational programs of external organizations in the host jurisdiction. PEI is set to host the Association's annual general meeting and conference in 2016.

Legislative Page Program

Legislative pages are Grade 11 and Grade 12 honour students, who have shown an interest in the Legislative Assembly and public affairs. They are active members of their schools and communities, participating in different activities, including sports, music, writing, volunteering, 4-H, Rotary Youth Parliament and student council. The Legislative Page Program provides them with another unique experience, giving them the opportunity to see first-hand the work of the Legislature. Pages are responsible for delivering documents, making photocopies, serving refreshments to Members, and other general responsibilities as assigned by the Speaker and Clerks. Their work term follows the academic year, commencing with the fall sitting in November, and ending with the close of the spring sitting.

In 2015, 25 students served as pages at the Legislative Assembly.

During the Spring Sitting (L to R): Drew Murphy, Westisle Composite High School; Sine Robinson, Colonel Gray Senior High School; Jason Bagnall, Bluefield High School; Ryan Arsenault, École Évangéline; Lydia Craig, Charlottetown Rural High School; Honourable Carolyn Bertram, Speaker; Jessie Bowser, Kensington Intermediate Senior High School; William Henbest, Montague Regional High School; Molly Pendergast, Morell Regional High School; Nigel Waite, Three Oaks Senior High School; Rebecca Paynter, Kinkora Regional High School; Megan O’Hanley, Souris Regional High School

Also during the spring sitting, four former pages returned:

Michelle McCabe,
Stratford

Laura McCardle,
Kinkora

Lauren McKearney,
Charlottetown

Emma MacLean,
Kensington

Rotary Youth Parliament

This long-running program is a partnership among the Rotary Clubs across Prince Edward Island, the Speaker's and Clerk's offices, the Department of Education, District School Boards, and volunteer teacher advisors.

The 27th Annual Rotary Youth Parliament was held on February 27-28, 2015, with the Honourable Carolyn Bertram, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly presiding. The 28th Annual Rotary Youth Parliament was held on November 27-28, 2015, with the Honourable Francis (Buck) Watts, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, presiding.

Students from all high schools on P.E.I. represented Government and Opposition Members and debated Acts and Resolutions on current issues on P.E.I.

Parliamentary Matters

Unparliamentary Language

The Rules of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island prohibit disrespectful language in debate (Rule 34(2)). In addition, personal attacks, insults, obscene language, or words that question a member's integrity, honesty or character are not permitted. While it is not possible to produce a definitive list of unparliamentary words and expressions, in 2015 the Speaker intervened to caution members regarding use of the following language in debate:

- corruption
- fraudulent
- misleading the House
- not honourable, not becoming of this House
- I find that hard to believe
- callous
- spin

Security

The year 2015 was a busy year for security, with the closing of Province House. The removal of all security equipment from Province House and the installation in the Coles Building in time for the spring sitting was critical. The relocation also included the installation of new security equipment for the exterior of the Coles Building. After several years of service with the Legislative Assembly as a security officer and Assistant Sergeant-At-Arms, Fred Fordham retired and his dedication to the job will be missed. Brian Weldon, a security officer with the Legislature, has been appointed Acting Assistant Sergeant-At-Arms.

In the past year, the Director of Security had the privilege of attending the Commonwealth Sergeant-At-Arms conference in London, England. The conference was hosted by Lawrence Ward, Sergeant-At-Arms for the House of Commons, England. This event celebrated the six hundredth anniversary of the Sergeant-At-Arms position and the eight hundredth anniversary of the Magna Carta. Topics covered during the conference included: security threats and strategy, public engagement, business resilience and disaster recovery planning, event and VIP visit management, media access and relations, security in the public eye, balancing access and security, and jurisdictional updates. A great deal was learned from the conference and workshop discussions, enabling the Sergeant-At-Arms to return and implement changes to security at the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island, allowing for a safer and more secure work place.

The Sergeant-At-Arms conference is held each year in a different location. In 2016, the conference will be held in Charlottetown.

Committee Activities

An important segment of the Legislative Assembly, both historically and currently, is that of the committee. There are three types of committees: standing committees, special committees and Committee of the Whole House. Committee work provides topical information to Members of the Legislative Assembly on issues of concern and often provokes important public debate. In addition, because committees interact directly with the public, they provide an immediate channel between elected representatives and Islanders.

Currently, several standing committees exist for every session of the Assembly, along with occasional special committees struck for a particular purpose and for a limited period of time. Standing and special committees are sub-groups of Members of all parties according to their proportion within the Legislative Assembly. These committees hold hearings and receive written submissions and in-person presentations from the public according to their committee mandates. The current active standing committees are organized into the following subject areas: Standing Committee on Agriculture and Fisheries; Standing Committee on Communities, Land and Environment; Standing Committee on Education and Economic Development; Standing Committee on Health and Wellness; Standing Committee on Infrastructure and Energy; Standing Committee on Public Accounts; and Standing Committee on Rules, Regulations, Private Bills and Privileges.

There is also the Standing Committee on Legislative Management, chaired by the Speaker, but its role relates to the administration and staffing of the Assembly and it is not normally a public committee.

This year the Special Committee on Democratic Renewal was created as a result of Motion 33. The role of this special committee was to guide public engagement and make recommendations in response to the White Paper on Democratic Renewal. This five person special committee of the Legislative Assembly consisted of Jordan Brown (Charlottetown-Brighton) (Chair), Peter Bevan-Baker (Leader of the Third Party), Honourable Paula Biggar (Transportation, Infrastructure and Energy), Sidney MacEwen (Morell-Mermaid), and Janice Sherry (Summerside-Wilmot).

The standing and special committees completed a busy and productive schedule of 55 meetings, submitting a total of 12 reports to the Legislative Assembly.

The following table contains information about the special and standing committees of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island, including their membership, meeting activity and reports for 2015.

Special Committee on Democratic Renewal – A New Approach to Engaging Islanders

In the Speech from the Throne delivered on June 3, 2015, Government included a commitment to “initiate and support a thorough and comprehensive examination of ways in which to strengthen our electoral system, our representation, and the role and functioning of the Legislative Assembly.” As part of this process, Government issued a White Paper on Democratic Renewal.

A five-person special committee of the Legislative Assembly was created to guide public engagement and make recommendations in response to the White Paper on Democratic Renewal. This special committee consisted of Jordan Brown (Charlottetown-Brighton) (Chair), Peter Bevan-Baker (Leader of the Third Party), Honourable Paula Biggar (Transportation, Infrastructure and Energy), Sidney MacEwen (Morell-Mermaid), and Janice Sherry (Summerside-Wilmot).

The committee wanted to ensure that it gained the broadest possible public input on the important issues raised in the White Paper and a new approach to informing and engaging Islanders for this special committee was initiated by the Legislative Assembly.

At the beginning of the initial public consultation phase, the committee launched a comprehensive communications plan to fulfill its mandate. A public engagement strategy was also implemented for the special committee. This approach involved employees of the Legislative Assembly to help ensure that appropriate mechanisms were in place to provide an innovative engagement strategy on a challenging topic and attempt to make democratic renewal as simple as possible – which can be a difficult task.

Employees of the Assembly embraced this challenge and attended all of the fall, 2015 public consultations across the province. The communications and public engagement initiative included advertising, launching a social media campaign, creating a new website for the special committee, developing brochures, and creating new innovative ways to engage the public, i.e. presentations and table top exercises.

Together with the committee, the employees of the Assembly wanted to provide the audience with the most appropriate communication methods to the various audiences. The focus was on what people would need to know for informed participation, interaction, and engagement. These community consultations provided a forum for good dialogue, debate and deliberation among those interested in democratic renewal.

The committee changed its format for the community meetings, acting on suggestions from those in attendance at the first set of consultations, to make the events more welcoming and inclusive. This involved a meet-and-greet portion in which the public could speak with committee members, followed by brief, objective introductions to electoral systems, where information about various voting systems was presented by staff members of the Legislative Assembly. Formal presentations from pre-registered participants took place in a legislative committee meeting setting.

As the committee made a concerted effort to reach young people on the important topic of democratic renewal, employees of the Legislative Assembly also participated in this engagement initiative. Strategies included the use of social media to reach these audiences in the digital spaces they occupy; meetings devoted to hearing specifically from university and high school students, including political science students at the UPEI; and directed letters of invitation to high school principals and social studies teachers across the province.

The public consultation phase included hosting a bilingual meeting in the community of Abram Village. The committee wanted to connect with the francophone community and bilingual Legislative Assembly employees were on hand to present information on electoral systems, and to speak to audience members in the language of their choice. Beyond the interpretation service offered at this meeting, all communication elements, including the White Paper itself, letters of invitation, newspaper advertisements, information brochures, and a slide presentation, were made available to the public in both official languages.

Throughout the process, many people exhibited a high degree of commitment, attending multiple consultations and regular communications with the committee. Overall attendance at the public meetings and events had reached close to 1,000 persons; however, social networking tools, specifically Facebook and Twitter, were used to reach larger target audiences in a low-cost way. The committee, along with the staff of the Legislative Assembly, worked with Communications PEI, to enhance Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and display ads through Google network. This boosted committee visibility and public engagement, and over 11,500 people were reached via social media alone.

The Special Committee on Democratic Renewal appreciated the efforts of the employees of the Legislative Assembly and facilitating the involvement in the consultations provided for effective public engagement.
